

VOLUME IV – EMPLOYER’S EVALUATION CRITERIA

^{A16}PART 9 – Price Proposal (4,500 Points). The price proposal will be evaluated utilizing a maximum score of 4,500 points. Two scoring elements will be applied, one for the total base price and the other for the total Provisional Sums.

Total Base Price Scoring Element: 4,000 points will be awarded to the Tenderer with the lowest total base price from the Schedule of Project Elements and Prices. Each of the remaining Tenderer’s scores will be obtained by dividing the lowest total base price by each of the remaining Tenderer’s total base prices and multiplying each respective result by 4,000 points.

Total Provisional Sums Scoring Element: 500 points will be awarded to the Tenderer with the lowest total Provisional Sums from the Schedule of Project Elements and Prices. Each of the remaining Tenderer’s scores will be obtained by dividing the lowest total Provisional Sums by each of the remaining Tenderer’s total Provisional Sums and multiplying each respective result by 500 points.^{A16}
